Music Composed and Performed by William Piotrowski

We've been a follower of Piotrowski's work for many years, due to his work in Nox Arcana, but here we have a solo project from him as he composed AND performed the score for the movie CRIMSON WINTER. While we always enjoyed Nox Arcana and their music, I think Piotrowski's work really shines here. Such a diverse score, with long brooding strings, but also some great guitar work, such on the track Echoes of the Past, that builds up the emotion of the score. From slow and echoing notes from the piano, to the haunting sounds of the violin, he creates a wonderful score that creates a mood of peace and tranquility, but also a very sad longing as well.

This score is one that can be played on a lazy afternoon when you just want some quiet and peaceful music in the background, but knowing there is so much more going on in the depths of the notes here. Simply put, just a beautiful piece of music. This score shows the talent and range Piotrowski has and I for one can't wait to see what he does next.
